

Berenberg EM Bonds I D

Actively managed fixed income fund

Investment Strategy

It is intended to invest the special assets primarily in government bonds from emerging market countries taking into account the principle of risk diversification. Weightings and consideration of the investment policy criteria can vary and lead to individual or several criteria being fully disregarded or clearly overvalued (e. g. high cash holdings depending on the market situation), however, the minimum investment ratio for bonds never falls below 51%. The criteria are neither exhaustive nor complete, so that other criteria, which are not listed here, can additionally be applied in particular to provide also for future developments. Active approach, i.e. index weights have no influence on individual stock selection.

Fund management comment

With Donald Trump's election victory as the next U.S. President, the USD strengthened, and U.S. yields initially rose by 17 basis points before easing due to the nomination of a "market-friendly" Treasury Secretary. On a monthly basis, the USD appreciated by nearly 4% against the EUR, and U.S. yields declined by 12 basis points. The sovereign bond segment of emerging markets (excluding CCC-rated bonds) gained by 0.53%, while corporate bonds performed at 0.49%. Risk premiums for sovereign bonds changed only marginally. The Berenberg EM Bonds fund outperformed the benchmark due to active duration management.

As a marketing communication this document does not meet all legal requirements to warrant the objectivity of investment recommendations and investment strategy recommendations and is not subject to the ban on trading prior to the publication of investment recommendations and investment strategy recommendations. This document is intended to give you an opportunity to form your own view of an investment. However, it does not replace a legal, tax or individual financial advice. Your investment objectives and your personal and financial circumstances were not taken into account. We therefore expressly point out that this information does not constitute individual investment advice. Any products or securities described may not be available for purchase in all countries or only in certain investor categories. This information may only be distributed within the framework of applicable law and in particular not to citizens of the USA or persons resident in the USA. The statements made herein have not been audited by any external party, particularly not by an independent auditing firm. Any future returns on fund investments may be subject to taxation, which depends on the personal situation of the investor and may change in the future. Returns on investments in foreign currencies may increase or decrease due to currency fluctuations. The purchase, holding, conversion or sale of a financial instrument, as well as the use or termination of an investment service, may give rise to costs that affect the expected income. In the case of investment funds, you should always make an investment decision on the basis of the sales documents (key investor document, presentation of past performance, sales prospectus, current annual, if applicable, semi-annual report), which contain detailed information on the opportunities and risks of the relevant fund. In the case of securities for which a securities prospectus is available, investment decisions should always be made on the basis of the securities prospectus, which contains detailed information on the opportunities and risks of this financial instrument, otherwise at least on the basis of the product information document. An investment decision should be based on all characteristics of the fund and not just on the sustainability-related aspects. All the aforementioned documents can be obtained from Joh. Berenberg, Gossler & Co. KG (Berenberg), Neuer Jungfernstieg 20, 20354 Hamburg, Germany, free of charge. BVI method: The charts and tables regarding performance shown here are based on own calculations according to the method developed by the German Investment Funds Association (BVI). They illustrate past performance. Future performance can deviate both positively and negatively from these calculations. Gross performance (BVI method) takes into account all charges at fund level (e.g. management fee), net performance plus the issue surcharge. As no issue surcharge is incurred for this share class the gross performance corresponds to the net performance. Additional charges can arise for individual investors (e.g. custody account fees, commissions and other fees). Also, fees may be charged for the administration of the safe custody account, which will lower the performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.
