

Berenberg Better Health Fund M A

Investment Strategy

"The fund management invests in global healthcare stocks that generate above-average and sustainable earnings growth over a long period of time. The fund focuses on companies that contribute to significantly improving human health, extending life expectancy and/or reducing healthcare costs. The long-term attractiveness of the healthcare sector is supported by demographics and social change due to the ageing population and rising wealth, especially in emerging countries.

- Investment in global stocks of any company size
- Portfolio of around 35 - 50 stocks
- Active and benchmark-agnostic approach
- Long-term investment horizon"

Performance

In accordance with the EU regulation "MiFID" (Markets in Financial Instruments Directive), as well as its implementation in national law, information on performance may only be shown if it covers a period of at least 12 months.

Fund management comment

July was an exciting month for the stock markets. The S&P 500 recorded a new all-time high almost every day in the beginning of the month, led by Big Tech. However, the weaker-than-expected CPI print led to a rotation. The Berenberg Better Health developed more negatively than its benchmark in July. Following the announcement of two takeovers, shares of Edwards Lifesciences fell significantly. Novo Nordisk and Eli Lilly suffered from the news about potential competitors in the obesity treatment market. Lonza shares rose significantly following the publication of good half-year figures. United Health shares also rose significantly following the announcement of good quarterly figures. The medical technology company Xvivo Perfusion, which specialises in organ transplants, announced a surprisingly positive half-year in July, continuing its strong share price performance since the beginning of the year. In July, we added the well-diversified Abbott Laboratories Group to our portfolio and sold Amplifon.

Consideration of ESG Elements

Identifying companies and business models that will be successful in the long term is the basis for good investment decisions. Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) factors are key factors in decision making and are therefore integral components of the investment process.

The fund does not actively manage its carbon footprint, however, emissions data such as CO₂ intensity are relevant parameters which can be used to assess the efficient management of a company and the extent of transition risks.

Weighted average CO₂ intensity - in tons of CO₂ per USD 1 million revenues

ESG Score

The data provider MSCI ESG uses an ESG score of 0 to 10 to assess the management of material ESG risks of portfolio holdings compared to competitors.

In the case of an orange flag (severe controversy), we enter into an active exchange with the company. In the case of a red flag (very severe controversy), the company is excluded.

The weights of the remaining fund and benchmark components are normalised to 100%.

Glossary & Methodology

Active Ownership

The term "Active Ownership" encompasses all our activities where we, as an investor, attempt to positively influence a company's management of ESG aspects. This includes Engagement, i.e. direct dialogue with companies to discuss specific ESG objectives as well as proxy voting, i.e. our voting recommendations to our fund administrator, which then exercises the voting rights at general meetings.

CO₂ Intensity

The CO₂ Intensity (Scope 1 & 2 emissions) per company is multiplied by its portfolio weight (current value of the investment by current portfolio value) and summed up. This weighted average CO₂ Intensity provides an indication of the portfolio's exposure to CO₂-emission intensive companies.
